Pancake Breakfast By Bud Joos

This is a great big THANK YOU from the Pancake Breakfast Chairs for the splendid support for the breakfast on Nov. 12th. There were some 37 Knights that signed in as workers for an estimated 105 hours of work.

We had a little trouble training our main cook after the first Mass but he was ready for the crowd after the 9:30 Mass. We more than doubled our profit compared to the October '99 breakfast. The proceeds will help offset the gift to the clergy of new vestments. Father Weithman was very grateful to have new vestments.

Thank you,

Co-Chairs - Fred Barwick,
Bog Glavan and Bud Joos.

Deputy Grand Knight's Challenge

by Bud Joos

I'M A SCROOGE!!

Oh, yes just ask my wife about old scrooge. But I think she will have to admit that after 45 years I'm not the scrooge that I used to be but I'm still working on it. The reason that I am writing this expose' is the result of a challenge from Becky Story, the parish secretary. I told her a while back that I was beginning to run out of material for my challenge pieces and she suggested that I write something about people's faults. If I would interview one person a month and have them tell me of their faults I would never run out of material.

At least once during each season of Christmas' Past I would get my evaluation. 'You are nothing but a scrooge' my wife would say. It wasn't that I didn't like the celebration of the Birth of the Christ Child, but it was because of all the extra pressures that came along with the celebration. My wife would ask what would make each of the six kids happy and would all the gifts be equal in their minds. And of course it wouldn't stop there, she has three sisters and one brother and they would talk and compare. And then there was the monumental task of deciding what to get our parents. At one time we drew names among my eleven brothers and sisters and then there was the problem of the spouses. I am not unique when I like some in-laws more than others. Now and for many, many years they get cards except for the ones that we dearly like. The same problem existed for all the friends that we made in college. Our list continued to expand while we lived in Kentucky, Ohio, Kansas, Texas and Pennsylvania. Even bigger problem for this scrooge was the presents for the office staff. That could and did cause heartburn for some of the staff for the entire year until the next Christmas. I was a closet scrooge at work and lived a lie at Christmas time pretending that I enjoyed the gift exchange. This scrooge is right, don't even start giving gifts because if you are the boss, because no matter how fair, your gifts will be the subject of restroom chatter. And it will hit like lightning. When electronic mail reaches the speed of gift evaluations at work, we will have really fast mail.

Some of the list was deleted over the years but ten grandchildren took those spaces. I have heard my Terri tell the grandchildren to enjoy each Christmas present and birthday card now because if anything happens to her you will never get a card or present from your Grandpa Scrooge. I don't know why they believe that but for years the grandchildren would always thanks grandma even if I was sitting right there next to her but Scrooge would remind them that he had some input. Now over last several years when I answer the phone and one of the grandchildren say 'thanks for the present' I always say 'you are welcome' and 'what did I get you?' Then they would giggle and tell me what we got them.

Paying for Christmas until IRS time and beyond also made me Scrooge. Old Scrooge won that battle because Terri now starts shopping early for Christmas and birthdays. Sometimes the pre-Christmas sales are for the following year. Let's see did I really win?

So as you can see I have my challenge for December I should smile at the following people; the clerks, the crowds, the packed parking lots, the road rage, the in-laws, the grandkids with noise-maker toys, and party people that are so self-centered. I can do it better now because I have secret hideaway.

It's called the Eucharist Chapel. I challenge you to make an impromptu visit even if for a few minutes. He will take away your stress and erase your scroogies.

Your Deputy Grand Knight,

Bad Joos.

Pasta Dinner by Dick Petersen

Terry Thompson and myself would like to extend our Thanks to the Twenty (20) Knights who participated in the October Pasta Dinner.

We served 196 Adult and 87 children dinners from 1PM to 7PM. Once again we were blessed to have bread sticks supplied by the Olive Garden in Lancaster to round out our meal. Please keep the Olive Garden in mind for your dining enjoyment.

During the preparation on Saturday we shed a few tears for the parish in chopping the onions. Dave McAllister came to our rescue with a food processor which made this go a little quicker.

Overall we made $702.22 which was slightly down from last year, but the diners commented that the food quality and quantity were excellent.

Again Thanks to all the Knights who participated.

Fraternally yours,

Dick Petersen and Terry Thompson
